

prove remedial to diseases of the nervous system. Plasters of Gunja-powders pasted with Kanjikam and applied to the scalp prove remedial to diseases of the head (cephalagia). By a taking a compound (decoction) of Vali, Ativaia, and Yashti, sweetened with the addition of Sugar and honey, even a sterile woman is sure to conceive. A plaster composed of Xwhite Aparijit roots, Pippali and Slmnathi, pasted together with water and applied to the scalp, proves curative in Cephalagia (head-ache). O thou blissful one, Gunja-roots pasted With K&anjikam and applied to the scalp, relieve headache. AratnikH roots boiled with water impart a pleasant colour to the palate. Decoctions of clustered sprouts of NirgundikS, prove curative in scrofula. Ashes of burnt Ketaki leaves taken with treacle, or Sharapunkhas taken with whey, cure splenic enlargement. Exudations of Matulunga taken with treacle and clarified butter relieve the type of colic {GastrUgia) due to the actions of the deranged Vayu, and Pittarn. Decoctions of Shuntln taken with Sauvarchala and Hingu prove antidotal to diseases of the heart.

CHAPTER CCVIU.

said :—Om, Gam Ganapataye Svaha (obeisance to the lord of the Ganas). By eight thousand times repeating thi,^c Mantrarn, and by tying up the tuft df hair on one's crown In a knot subsequent to that, one is sure to come victorious out of a royal court of justice and to be a favourite with kings.

 O Rudra, a thousand and eight libations of clarified butter containing black sesame should be cast in the fire with the Recitation of this opulence-giving (Ganapati) Mantra for acquiring a mastery over the minds of kings and ladies*